Will Not Seize Home Foods

There is no truth in a widely circulated statement that the Government expects to take food supplies from any family. Both the Food Administration and the Department of Agriculture join in a statement to counteract what seems to be a deliberate propaganda to the effect that the Government intends to take from every family all canned goods put up in excess of 100 quarts.

This is only one of the variations of the rumor, which has been widely circulated.

Another statement is that the Government has been urging the canning, drying and preserving of fruits and vegetables so that they will be in a convenient form for the Government to handle and transport when it takes them away from the people. It is also said that these goods are to be taken away from American homes and shipped to England.

In one instance a motorist stopped at a farmhouse to fill the radiator of his automobile. In the course of conversation he casually inquired whether the farmer was canning all the surplus fruits and vegetables. He was informed that the farmer was not doing this because the Government intended to take all the canned goods away except a small part of it actually needed by the family, itself.

The authorities state emphatically that no such course has ever been contemplated by the Government. On the contrary, both the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration are strongly urging housewives to can and preserve all surplus fruits and vegetables, in order that the households themselves may have a plentiful supply of food, especially at this time. No, You Can't!

Mr. Green Estes, who recently sold his farm in this county and moved to Powell, was a Courtday visitor here and brought to this office one of the largest apples we have ever seen. It was grown on the farm of Clarence Estes in Powell, and weighed 17 ounces and measured 14 inches in circumference. It was also very luscious. Can you beat it?—Mt. Sterling Gazette, Sept. 19.

Called to Paris.

A. P. Johnson and family were called to Paris Sunday on account of Mr. Sam Finney, a brother-in-law to Mr. Johnson having received a stroke of paralysis. He was affected only in his left side, and was much better when Mr. Johnson arrived. The doctors said his trouble was caused by over work, he having in a large crop and being unable to get help.

Library For Containment.

A movement is on foot to raise $1,000,000.00 to establish free libraries in each of the draft army containments. An organization has been perfected in Kentucky with chairman in each of the 120 counties. Judge A. T. Knox has been named chairman for Powell county.

Taking an Outing Round

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kirk, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kirk, left here Sunday morning for a full day's outing. They went by way of Spout Springs to Irvine, which they barely recognized in its new oil dress; got so badly lost at Ravenna, where Mr. T. J. was raised, that they couldn't find Hawk's Galloway, nor even the old Loge Cockrill place; lit out then through West Irvine, by Waco, to Richmond, then across to Boonesboro, where they thought they caught a glimpse of an Indian in a sycamore; then on to Winchester, where they struck the old familiar track—the last lap home.

About a hundred miles, five gallons of gasoline and home before night!

October Illiteracy Campaign

The teachers and citizens of Kentucky are to make a big drive against illiteracy during the month of October in an effort to teach twenty thousand during that time to read and write.

Sunday Schools of the State have been asked to co-operate, and Sunday, Oct. 7th, has been designated as the day when all Sunday Schools in the State will have a program devoted to the subject of illiteracy and how to eradicate it. Letters from moonlight pupils who rejoice that they can read, will be read.

Farmers' Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the farmers in this portion of the county at the office of the Day Lumber and Coal Company Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of arranging for the growing of a wheat crop and to perfect arrangements to get a thresher to thresh it after it is grown. Other matters will also be discussed. All farmers are urged to be present at this meeting. G.

Rose--Swineford.

Mr. N. Virgil Rose, of this city was married Thursday, Sept. 13th in Louisville to Miss Elnar Swineford, of Lexington. The bridal party were attending the State Fair at the time. They went from there to Mammoth Cave on a short bridal trip. They arrived Sunday to the home of his father, Mr. Edwin Rose.

Some Coal in Town.

Gran Hackworth has by some form of ingenuity succeeded in getting two cars of coal this week from Beattyville, which went readily here at 22½ cents per bushel. Coal in Clay City is a rarity. Mr. Hackworth has the promise of more coal in a short time.

Fall Equinox.

Saturday was the fall equinox, a time when the days and nights in all portions of the globe are equal. The days will now gradually grow shorter until December 22.

Dora O. Wood, formerly of this city, who joined the marine forces some three months ago, is visiting home folks at Winchester and will sail for France next week.

Mt. Sterling Court Day

A big crowd was here Monday and a large run of cattle, probably 6,000 to 6,500 head, were on sale, and the quality was good.

Sales were brisk all day long with scales running steadily handling stock. There were many buyers from distant counties at the pens and the demand for stock was one of the strongest in many months. Prices were high, the best 1,000 pound cattle selling at 8½ cents; yearlings 8 to 8½ cents; heifers at 7 to 7½ cents; canner cows at 4½ cents; fat cows at 6½ cents and bulls at 7 cents, with a few hogs selling at 15 cents a pound.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Miss Moore Passes Away.

After a lingering illness of several months, Miss Lacey Moore, fifteen-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, of this city, passed away at their home, Thursday morning, last, Sept. 20. Tuberculosis has claimed another victim.

The burial was in the Cemetery at Stanton, Friday afternoon.

Lacey was a member of the Christian church of this city and a most lovable child. She will be sadly missed by her school mates and other dear friends, as well as in the home of her fond parents.

Sorghum Making.

Sorghum making time is with us and the crop is fine and large. It has been most impossible to get mills and evaporators to work up the cane, as we have heard of as many as two persons in one community failing to get them promptly. One of them countermanded his order when informed that no shipment could be made under 30 days.

Bank Report.

The Clay City National Bank has another of their fine reports in this issue of the Times. This report shows the deposits to be over $200,000.00 with ample resources to safely secure every dollar deposited. It is as satisfactory to read the statement of this bank as it is to do business there.

Will Have Sale.

The heirs of Mrs. Martha Martin, deceased will have a sale of personal property and the farm on Snow creek, Saturday, October 6th to settle up the estate. See hand bills for list of articles to be sold and attend the sale.

Novel Verdict.

At Frankfort an usual cause for damage was upheld when Winfred Wright was given judgment against the L. & N. Railroad for $5,000 on the claim that he contracted tuberculosis from handling cross ties saturated with creosote.

Too Late.

Hardwick & Co., the wide-awake Stanton merchants, have received their fall stock of goods and sent in change for their ad. yesterday, but unfortunately for this week at least, the inside of the paper where their ad. is, was already printed.

They'd Heard of Natural Bridge

Three young men from Ypsilanti, Michigan, passed thro' Clay City Monday in a Ford, enroute home in that queer spelled city.

Two of them—Henry Gilmore and Wendell Gorton—were students at Ann Arbor, and one, Nat Hopkins, was a printer on the staff of The Press, of that city.

They were pleased with all they saw in Kentucky, the beauty of the Bluegrass and the ruggedness of the hills. The way grew worse to Slade, where they had to leave the car and walk on to the Bridge.

They called, of course, to see us and to send back thanks to some folks who helped them out of a tight place near Slade. They wanted to see the oil fields and to capture a rattlesnake, but had no time for either.

Roads and Bridges Without Bonds

The extraordinary session of the Legislature passed a law which allows the Fiscal Court of a county to call an election to vote on a road tax of any amount up to 20 cents on the $100 worth of taxable property, to run for a period of not longer than ten years, and all funds derived from the tax must be used for road and bridge purposes.

If the various counties of the State would vote such a tax, it would be possible in most cases to have good roads and good bridges without voting bond issues. The tax would not work a hardship on any one and the increase in value of property alone would be worth to the people several hundred times the amount they pay in taxes.

Good roads mean better schools and churches and better, more prosperous, citizens.

There are standards for building roads the same as for building railroads, office buildings, steam engines, or automobiles, and any departure from the accepted standards will result in a waste of money.

It is impossible to figure the damage done to autos, wagons or buggies, each time a trip is made over a bad road, but we are safe in saying that the damage amounts to a great deal more than the tax would be for good roads.

Women of Maine have been refused the vote by their rock bound brothers. However, time has exploded the tradition that "as Maine goes so goes the nation."

Directions For Growing Wheat.

As many of our farmers contemplate sowing wheat this fall owing to the high prices for this grain, and owing to the further fact that money has been assured to buy a thresher to get it threshed. We give below the Government's advice as to growing and etc.

The varieties of wheat generally grown in Kentucky are the best for this state. These are Fultz, a smooth white chaff variety; Currell's Prolific, having a smooth head with red chaff, Fulkaster, a bearded variety, and Mediterranean or Four-rowed Fultz.

If necessary to buy seed one of these varieties should be chosen, and if possible the seed should be bought in the immediate locality. Home grown seed is just as good as Northern seed if reasonably clean and pure. No farmer can afford to buy enough high priced seed from a distance to plant his entire crop, and pay freight charges in addition, just to have absolutely pure seed. A moderate admixture of our varieties will not decrease the yield. The important thing is to have seed free from rye, cheat, and especially cockle and onions.

Seed wheat should be cleaned in order to remove light shrunken grains, dirt and other impurities. There is no advantage in screening out small grains if they are plump.

Wheat grows best in a firm seed bed. Under no circumstances should the land be plowed when wheat follows corn, tobacco, cow peas, soy beans or any cultivated crop. The best preparation is a light disking to cover trash and loosen up enough soil to cover the seed. After disking, a plank drag should be used to level the land. If it is necessary to disk deeply to cover trash, as is sometimes true of corn land, a roller should be used to compact the seed bed.

When land is plowed, the plowing should be done as early as the removal of the preceding crop permits, in order that the seed bed may be gotten firm. The later the plowing is done, the greater the necessity for thorough working, especially rolling. Without any exception it pays to prepare a seed bed sometime before sowing the seed if it can possibly be done.

Experiments have shown that October 1st to 10th is the safest time to plant wheat in Kentucky, everything considered. In southern parts of the state it is safer to wait until October 10th to 20th when there seems much danger of Hessian fly attacks. Late seeding is the only possible way of controlling this pest.

It pays to sow five to six pecks of seed per acre in Kentucky. The station has proved this by repeated experiments. Except under the most favorable conditions, as when wheat is sown rather early on rich tobacco land or on fallow land, 6 pecks per acre pays better than five. Beware of seedsmen who advertise varieties of wheat which require a seeding of only a peck or two per acre. There is absolutely no variety of wheat that gives as profitable yields at this rate as at 5 to 6 pecks per acre.

U. S. Marshal Morton Ford and Revenue officers J. M. Rose and Allen Wells during a five week's raid in the counties of Rowan and Menifee found and destroyed three moonshine stills.

Studebaker

WAGONS BUGGIES HARNESS

AMPLE PROOF THAT IT DOES—AND IS DOING—ITS WORK

My father purchased our Studebaker before I was born. I remember having seen it 40 years ago. Just a short time ago I hauled 3,000 pounds of coal on this wagon, so you can judge it is some wagon yet, for an old one.

I use the old Studebaker every day or whenever I need a wagon. It has always stood out in all kinds of weather up to eight or nine years ago, when I commenced keeping it under cover.

Charles Stratton,
Andover, Ohio

Hauls 3000 pounds of coal on 40 year old Studebaker

In the 80 acre lumber yard of Studebaker at South Bend is the largest stock of wagon material in the world—and none has been more carefully selected.

The good material isn't the whole answer—it is combined with skilled workmanship and that's why Studebaker wagons last forty years.

Studebakers build wagons today just as strong as they built them forty years ago. And the wagon that lasts longest is the cheapest wagon in the end.

There are a lot of reasons why the next wagon you buy should be a Studebaker.

We have just received a car load of Studebaker wagons, and by buying them in car load lots can save you money. We have them in the following sizes—size 3 1-4 in. with tires 1 3-4 in. wide, size 3 1-4 in. with tires 1 1-2 in. wide, size 3 in. with tires 1 3-4 in. wide, size 3 in. with tires 1 1-2 in. wide, size 2 3 4 in. with tires 1 1 2 in. wide and size 2 1 2 in. with 1 1 2 in. tires.

We invite you to call when in need of anything in merchandise. It is our aim to keep as near as is possible every thing the people call for. We handle good, up-to-date goods and at prices that will save you money. If you are interested in saving money in this way call and see what we can do for you.

Mrs. Allen White got a needle stuck in her wrist so deep, and so firmly imbedded in the muscles, that it was with great difficulty the doctor got it out.

ness and pleasure trip to Heidelberg Sunday returned Monday. The last we saw of Marion he was sitting between two beautiful girls enjoying himself immensely. Now guess who the girls were.

Misses Brehmer and Childs entertained the teachers at the home of the wrtier last Friday night and a splendid time was had as well as some fine eatings. Howard Harrison was, also present to make the occasion a success.

T. C. Martin & Co. store was the scene of an attempted robbery one night last week by three men, who were discovered by Mr. Martin's family, sleeping overhead. They shot at the robbers as they fled, but owing to the darkness they missed them.

Misses Anna and Gladys Welch invited the trachers up to their home last Saturday where they partook of a splendid dinner. When the teachers commenced to name over all the good things they had to eat we wished we were one of the teachers of Stanton College.

There is a fine field of alfalfa on the farm of R. C. Hall, that looks mighty good to the writer. So far as we know, this is the first alfalfa field in Powell county. We have heard it said that any farm that will grow alfalfa is worth $50 an acre, no matter where it is, or how situated.

The boys are being summoned to Stanton this week for examination for the army. Elijah Boyd of the South Fork, has already given two sons to the army, and Tuesday he bought down the last one of draft age. Others, also, are giving their only sons; and this is indeed an act of patriotism to our country in its hour of need.

Clint Wright is home from Cabin Creek, W. Va., where he has come to find some hands to take back with him. Wages is good there he says and one of the finest places to work that he has ever been, never any disturbances, shooting, drinking or rowdying but meetings are held nearly every night. He expects to return the latter part of this week.

R. C. Hall has completed a new silo that will hold sixteen acres of corn. This is one of the largest, if not the largest, in Powell county; and it will be of wonderful benefit to Mr. Hall in feeding this winter. It would be fine if there was a silo on every farm where stock is kept. We predict that some day Powell will have a large number of them as people learn the advantages of them.

Lightning struck the coal house of Luther Stephens one day last week and came very near being fatal to Mr. Stephens. He was inside the building at the time. The lightning tore off part of the roof and splintered a box or something holding a five gallon can of oil doing damage all around the can and yet not hitting it. Mr. Stephens was knocked down and paralyzed for some time after the stroke. It was a close call for him and would have resulted fatally probably had it set the can of oil off.

At $2.20 a bushel for wheat the farmer should be able to keep from starvation and still have something left for a new car in the spring.

Wolves in sheep's clothing are very rare nowadays. It's too expensive.

It does seem that eggs at present prices ought at least to be silver-plated.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak...

I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow.
